FIRST PRIZE — Hal Denham (left) Albany Chamber of Commerce manager, and Don George of Albany TV exhibit a Toshiba color television set that will be the top award of Sidewalk Days.

ALBANY — Prizes to be given as a feature of "Sidewalk Days," May 5, 6 and 7, were announced today by the sponsoring organizations — the Albany Chamber of Commerce, Albany Times and the Independent-Gazette.

First prize in the coupon promotion will be a thirteen-inch Toshiba color television set donated by Albany TV and the co-sponsors.

Second and third prizes are Zenith AM-FM five-band portable radio receivers given by Supreme TV and the sales event's co-sponsors.

A three-day, two-night at the Reef Resort Inn in Reno is the fourth prize. The latter award is being donated by Nevada-Tahoe Tours.

In addition, many of the individual participating business people on Solano and San Pablo avenues will give additional prizes, the cost of which will be shared by the Albany Chamber of Commerce, Hal Denham, C of C manager, said.

The following rules will govern coupon distribution and awarding of the prizes:

1. Eligible prize winners must be at least 18 years of age or older.
2. Only one Major Prize may be awarded to a family or address.
3. Stores must furnish their own deposit box for coupons.
4. Each participating store may give their own prizes for the coupons deposited at their place of business if they so desire. (Not Mandatory)
5. The Chamber will share one half the cost value of any prize that individual participating businesses wish to give, as mentioned in Rule No. 4, up to 50 cents per column inch of their advertising space in the special tabloid issue of the Times (minimum of 5 column inches). In addition the Chamber will cooperate

Jackson to remain in power Mayor rotation blocked

By NORMAN COLBY
I-G Staff Writer

ALBANY — The city council, apparently unable to determine who should be mayor, has voted to postpone its traditional reorganization indefinitely with Mayor Joyce Jackson remaining in power.

The decision to delay the annual rotation of the mayoral post at Monday's meeting leaves Pat Griffin, who is considered next in line for the role, in his post as vice mayor.

The council Monday voted 3-2 to table its "reorganization," with no date set for reconsideration.

The sensitive matter may be raised again, with the strong possibility that Mrs. Jackson may again be elected.

Mrs. Jackson, Councilman Mike Gleason and Griffin have been considered the "liberal" element on the council, with the power to make controversial decisions on a 3-2 vote. Councilmen Lewis Howell and Robert Luoma are considered the "traditionalists."

It had been expected that Griffin could be elected mayor on a 3-2 vote, with Mrs. Jackson, Gleason and himself voting in favor, Councilmen Howell and Luoma opposed.

However, it became apparent last night that either Mayor Jackson or Councilman Gleason also oppose Griffin's elevation to the mayorship.

Griffin, the council's most controversial member, became vice mayor 30 months ago when Gleason became mayor, succeeding Richard Clark who resigned from the council.

Griffin continued as vice mayor when 18 months later Mrs. Jackson replaced Gleason as mayor.

It is generally believed that Griffin has been hopeful of becoming mayor despite the fact that he has been the center of most of the city's major controversies in recent years, drawing the wrath of merchants and police department supporters.

Griffin has been accused of being "anti-business" and "anti-police," but he has denied this.

If nominated, Mrs. Jackson would probably consent to serve as mayor for a second year, observers believe.

In recent weeks, strong support had been building on the council for returning Gleason to the mayorship, but he declined as the hour of decision drew near, it is believed.

The tabling motion last night was made by Gleason and seconded by Griffin, with Mrs. Jackson providing the other affirmative vote.

Although Griffin has spearheaded the controversial "human relations" ordinance creating a commission to investigate human relations violations, he is also interested in police work, having nearly completed a 10-month police basic course conducted by the Berkeley schools.

Griffin has expressed interest in becoming a reserve police officer.

Because of his reputation for being "anti-business," Griffin surprised some council member Monday night by requesting council authorization to informally contact Albany merchants, obtaining their viewpoints on future local economic development.

Griffin proposed the possible formation of a Business Development Committee.

CAR president gets--

A long perspective on Bay Area's future

By WOODY JOHANNES
I-G Staff Writer

ALBANY — Viewing the Bay Area from half-way around the globe, Jerome Blank, president of the California Realtors Association (CAR) knew that what had been a supposition was developing into a certainty.

"Real estate prices will continue to rise in the Bay Area," Blank predicted today. "The most important fact driven home, during our tour of Japan and our visit to Hong Kong, this month, was that as cities grow and prime land becomes scarce, prices will rise. We've seen it happen in Asia. We'll see it happen here."

Blank's group — 138 California realtors and their wives — left March 26 for a three-week tour of the Far East.

"One of our principal purposes was to acquire some knowledge of the East's real estate market, and to determine the feasibility of Americans investing in Japanese ventures, and Japanese putting money into American industry and real estate.

JEROME BLANK

"Previously these investments had posed some problems, primarily because of the Japanese government restricting the investment of the yen in foreign countries. But that situation was eased somewhat, this year, and there is a greater opportunity, now, for a flow of capital between our two nations.

"Post-war Japan is quite modern, most progressive, and possessed of an impressive technology," Blank continued. "We met with some of the leading real estate experts in Tokyo, including the vice-president of the Mitsubishi Estate Company who escorted us through a downtown commercial project. That development included 60 high-rise commercial and office buildings in the heart of the Ginza and adjacent to the emperor's palace. This is characteristic of most current construction in Tokyo. Because of land scarcity, single-family homes are too expensive to build in the urban area — new homes are usually apartments and condominiums. By way of contrast, one-family residence and its grounds — the emperor's palace — sprawls over an area of approximately four square blocks in the heart of downtown Tokyo.

"The Mitsubishi representative also showed us about the Shinjuku Redevelopment area of Tokyo. This is one of the largest redevelopment projects in the world, and currently has

Albany survey to assess needs of elderly citizens

ALBANY — Beginning in early May, the City of Albany Committee on Aging will undertake a needs assessment survey in an effort to collect specific data that will help pinpoint key social needs among the elderly.

Using the person-to-person survey technique, interviewers will attempt to contact every Albany resident 60 years of age or over. The Albany City Council recently approved the use of CETA employees to conduct the actual interviewing. All interviews will carry letters of identification.

According to Dorothy Brown, coordinator of the survey, the questionnaire was designed with three goals in mind; to find out how city services for older people can be improved, to locate older people in need of help, and to find older

Waterfront bicycle trail under study

ALBANY — Incorporation of provisions for a bicycle trail along the waterfront will be considered by the Albany Waterfront Committee, Ray Redel, committee chairman, said today.

"We believe the East Bay Regional Park District also will suggest a bike route — one that will connect with their regional route along the shoreline," Redel said. "A route extending from Emeryville has already been funded, I understand."

Neil Havlik, a member of Redel's committee, last week forwarded a suggestion for the Albany routing to the chairman, noting that:

"The Buchanan Street interchange is so complex that at first glance a bicycle route looks hopeless. However, I have looked the area over and have come up with what I (Havlik) feel is a viable plan."

Havlik suggests:

"1. Traveling westward: There would be a bike lane on Buchanan Street including the overpass, to the point where the pedestrian steps reach overpass level. At that point the bike lane would merge into a widened sidewalk to become a bike path, separated from auto traffic. This would follow"

'Rights' Commission clears first hurdle

ALBANY — An Albany Human Relations Commission, with authorization to investigate reports of "human rights" violations has cleared its first hurdle to creation by the Albany City Council.

Council action Monday came on a 4-1 vote, despite urgings that the matter be delayed, allowing community discussion of the issue during the May 14 Albany town meeting before a decision.

Mayor Joyce Jackson urged an immediate vote, calling the action a "great opportunity to investigate human services needs."

Councilman Lewis Howell, the dissenter, described the action as "punitive," directed towards the local police department and "divisive" in the community.

Before voting in favor, Councilman Robert Luoma asked for a postponement, saying, "I want to do more investigating of my own," then suggesting that it should be delayed until the town meeting.

Vice Mayor Pat Griffin, who made the motion, called it a "positive approach... providing a mechanism for educating people in government... giving them a voice in government."

But Howell referred to Griffin's statements to the I-G last week, where the vice mayor suggested that Police Chief James Simmons might be docked pay or suspended if he continues using the PSE (voice lie detector) machine against council orders, although Simmons has been upheld by the superior court.

Instead of a "punitive" action directed against police, the council should work towards "bringing the community together," Howell said.

To Mrs. Jackson's comment about a "great opportunity," Howell retorted, "You sound like Dellums," (Congressman Ron Dellums) Mrs. Jackson retorted, "I don't know whether to be offended or complimented."

Councilman Mike Gleason reminded Luoma that Luoma was a "co-author" of the human relations ordinance and that upon Luoma's suggestion the new commission will not deal with "personnel complaints against city employees."

Gleason supported immediate action, saying that the May 14 town meeting, if its participants desire, might include discussion of, "what kinds of things to be done under the human relations law." He seconded the motion.

Tiny will ask, on a single-proposition ballot: "Shall I keep my beard or shave it?", and charge 25 cents for the privilege of voting on this hair-splitting issue. The poll tax will, Tiny hopes, finance larger quarters for the bustling Senior Center.

6. Participants must hold their drawing (if any) at the close of business on Saturday, May 7th and then deliver all of the coupons to the Albany Bowl by 6 p.m. on Monday, May 9th.

7. Public Drawing for the Major Prizes will be held in the Lobby of the Albany Bowl, 540 San Pablo Ave. at 11 a.m. on Tuesday, May 10th. All prizes must be claimed by Monday, June 3rd.

8. It is your responsibility to get your coupons to the Albany Bowl before the drawing takes place. They are open 24 hours each day including Sunday. We suggest you bring yours in Saturday night (May 7th).

9. Employees of the Independent - Gazette - Albany Times and Albany Chamber of Commerce are not eligible to win any of the Major Prizes.

Stephanie FallCreek, director of Albany Senior Center, and supervisor of the survey, stated that, because all CETA employees conducting the interviews must be Albany residents, "the impending survey will provide an excellent opportunity to educate and be educated by members of the community."

Both Mrs. Brown and Miss FallCreek say they "feel assured of the cooperation of Albany citizens in this valuable needs assessment program."

There are openings for part-time employees to assist in conducting door-to-door interviewing. Applicants will be responsible for administering comprehensive needs assessment questionnaire to Albany's elderly population.

Qualifications include the ability to converse with a variety of people, and to work independently. A paid training period will be provided. Applicants must be Albany residents and eligible for CETA (Comprehensive Employment Training Act) employment. Persons interested in these positions may apply at the Albany Senior Center located at 846 Masonic Ave. in Albany. Older Albany residents who qualify for CETA are urged to apply.

Seventy percent of the Lower Living Standard Income Level is defined as follows: Family size: one person, $2,800, two persons, $4,340, Three persons, $5,960, four persons, $7,360, five persons, $8,680, six persons, $10, 160.

AHS girl scholastic 'finalist'

ALBANY — Albany High's DeeAnn Sannazzaro will be among the 36 students competing in the finals of Bank of America's 1977 Achievement Awards program.

Four East Bay high school seniors will walk away with $1,000 top prizes, May 5, in the four academic divisions. DeeAnn is competing in the Vocational Arts class. The competition will be conducted at Goodman's in Jack London Square — the culmination of four months of competition beginning at the individual high school level. High school winners competed at zone events with students from neighboring schools for the chance to go on to the final selection event.

Chairman of the judging panel is Dr. Peter S. Van Houten, director, student advising and assistance, University of California, Berkeley.

The judges will evaluate the students on the basis of written compositions and verbal responses to discussion questions. Also considered will be the student's scholastic record, school and community activities and leadership qualities.

Winners will be announced at a banquet that evening.

Ballet program at Albany library

The lithe young girl striding along the BART path, during the early morning hours of the past several weeks, maintained a pace that probably embarrassed BART, but intrigued a lot of Albanyites.

The girl, we learned recently, is Carol Tyson, Britain's national three-kilometer walking race champion. Carol, who was a house-guest of Bob and Marian Hoyle while visiting the Bay Area, used the BART path for her daily workouts.

Albany Middle School's PTA will stage its fifth annual Flea Market Saturday in the school's central courtyard.

The five-hour sale will open at 10 a.m. according to Maya Mizuhara who issued a plea, this morning, "for all your children's old clothes, and goodies of all descriptions that we can sell."

"We'll have a delightful bake-booth, too, as well as Mr. Shogren's Green Garden Corner," she added.

The flea market will be preceded by a breakfast, being served from 8 a.m. to 10 by the eighth graders. The graduates are asking a donation of $1.25 for the morning meal — one of the projects the group is sponsoring to raise funds for a graduation party.

Albany High School's "Famous Alumni Department" has been expanding its roster rapidly, of late. Joe Cravotto, who was the Albany High School Band's student director, several years ago, recently was named student director of the Cal Marching Band.

Another AHS grad, Gwan-Ying Wu, was accepted this week as a piano major at the Julliard Conservatory in New York.

Nine Albanyites were among the 60 volunteers honored, at a recent Alameda County Library luncheon, for their services "that brought the library to the shut-ins."

The local volunteers were Esther Cunningham, Opal Carter, Darlene Shumway, Emily Fine, Joan Hofmann, Bill Chun, Judith Zvonkin, Susan Summer and Nilda Keller.

The honorees have been delivering books, records, magazines and newspapers to individuals confined to their homes or in convalescent hospitals, board and care homes and senior citizens apartment centers. The volunteer program was organized by the County Library five years ago.

Mrs. Gwen Dick has been appointed chairman of the newly established Memorial Fund of Albany Chapter 2618, American Association of Retired Persons. Proceeds of this fund will go to a $250 scholarship award to a needy Albany High School student for college expenses.

Persons wishing to make a donation to this Memorial Fund may send checks to Mrs. Dick at 1322 Key Route Blvd., Berkeley 94702. "They should include name of deceased person and name and address of family of deceased, as well as their own name and address," Mrs. Dick said. "Acknowledgment cards will be sent by Mrs. Dick to all parties concerned."

Chevron USA of Richmond Awards Large Lease Bid to Albany Ford

Ted Chowanec, President of Albany Ford announced that Chevron USA of Richmond recently awarded Albany Ford a 105 unit combined car and truck lease order. This full maintenance lease is one of the largest orders to occur in the East Bay in the past few years. Included in the lease were Ford Mavericks, LTD II's, F-150 pickups, F-250 pickups, and Club Wagons. This lease on the entire Chevron fleet stretches over the next 3 years.

Mel Kochanovich, Fleet Manager at Albany Ford, has been appointed the Chevron USA - Albany Ford representative to insure proper maintenance and service on the vehicles.

"As a result of this large maintenance lease," states Chowanec, "Albany Ford has built new rental dept. offices to facilitate replacement of Chevron vehicles under repair. This strengthens the lease/rental operation to provide a better selection, lower prices, and more options to the consumer."

Albany Ford Announces Day and Night Service

Gary Bass, service manager at Albany Ford, announced today that Albany Ford Service Dept. is now open from 7:30 a.m. to 12 midnight in order to better serve their customers. In many cases, it is now possible to drop your car off in the evening and be able to pick it up the next morning. This new dimension is another step in Albany Ford's attempt to be more responsive to customer needs.

Albany wins seventh straight

Albany continued its torrid hitting streak which has carried the Cougars to seven consecutive ACAL victories, crushing Alameda 12-4 Friday.

Other local clubs also had successful afternoons with Salesian edging St. Joseph's 4-3 in 10 innings and John Swett tipping Washington, 4-2.

In the RBAL, Berkeley clubbed Harry Ellis 13-8 and Kennedy ripped De Anza, 9-3.

Albany jumped out to a 2-0 lead in the top of the first inning. Raul Ybarra singled and was driven to third by John Luty's double. Ybarra scored on a passed ball and Luty crossed the plate when Mark Diana singled.

The Cougars found themselves down 3-2 in the bottom of the first. But Albany rebounded with a four-run second to take a 4-3 lead.

Andy Mayeda singled and stole second. Ybarra singled him to third. But Mayeda was nailed at the plate on a double steal attempt. Ken Torres then singled Ybarra to third. Luty and Jerald Wiley followed with RBI singles.

Alameda tied it in the bottom of the second, but Albany went ahead for good in the third with two more runs. Diana walked and advanced to third on Andrei Wallace's double. Torres singled to score them both.

Salesian, which had recorded only seven hits in three previous games, was no-hit through five and one-third innings.

But the Chieftains, down 3-0 in the sixth, cut loose to tie it up on a double by Zane Clutts, a single by Carl Glover, a two-run double by Carlos Farrell and an RBI single by Kevin Neveu.

After three scoreless innings, Salesian finally won it on Steve Morales' leadoff 10th-inning home run.

Sweet took an early lead against Washington and held it thanks to some fine fielding.

The Indians picked up two runs in the third on a single by Paul Hall, a walk to Ken Stephenson, a wild pitch and a two-run single by Ron Witschi.

They picked up single runs in the sixth and seventh innings to wrap it up.

Witschi doubled to lead off the sixth and crossed the plate with the winning run one out later on Doug Gillette's infield out.

Berkeley scored runs in each of the last six innings against Ellis. The winning runs were scored in the sixth when the Jackets put together a three-run rally.

Shoety Babbitt singled. Terrence McCrary hit into a fielder's choice, with both runners reaching base safely. An error on Tom Fairchild's bull loaded the bases.

Jeff Ransom then stroked a double off the left-field fence. Fairchild was thrown out at the plate, Ransom taking third. Catcher Michael Belser tried to pick off Ransom, but threw the ball away to let the Jackets' catcher score.

Kennedy was never challenged by De Anza, taking a 9-0 lead in the fifth inning.

The deciding margin came in the third. Rory Theoudele singled, stole second and advanced to third on a wild pitch. Scott Kramer followed with a walk. Centerfielder Tim Meek then dropped a fly ball, allowing both runs to score.

Bears overpower UCLA ball team, 5 to 4

By NICK PETERS
I-G Sports Editor

It was Albany High Alumni Day at Clint Evans Diamond Friday, UCLA's baseball team paying the price because it couldn't contain the one-two punch of Tim Hickerson and Len Patterson.

The former Albany prep standouts combined for 10 total bases, four hits, four runs batted in and reached base eight times as the Golden Bears edged the Bruins, 5-4, in Pac-8 action.

The winning hit was a run-scoring double in the sixth inning by Hickerson, whose two-run homer was the big blow in a four-run fifth that erased UCLA's early 4-0 lead.

Hickerson reached base five times with his extra-base blasts and three walks, lifting his batting average from .297 to .306. Patterson added a pair of doubles and a walk in three trips, scoring from .302 to .311.

"I've been hitting well for a few weeks after dropping down to .287," recalled Hickerson, whose 335-foot homer awakened the Bears and triggered a four-run rally after two outs in the fifth.

Secondbaseman Terry Stigge started the rally with a single up the middle and Hickerson sent a 2-2 pitch over his right field screen for his third field homer of the season, tying Patterson and Bob Silverman for the team lead.

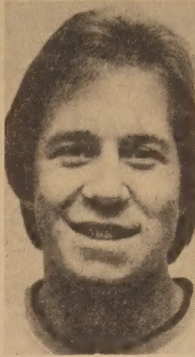

"I wasn't guessing anything," said Hickerson. "I swung real easy and he (pitcher Floyd Chiffer) put it right down the middle. I don't know what it is, but I've always had success against UCLA."

Chiffer was lifted after walking Silverman and Tom Colburn and Patterson greeted reliever Scott Bollens with a first-pitch, ground-rule double to the power alley in left-center, scoring Silverman.

Bob Bohnet followed with a line single to left, scoring Colburn for 4-4. The Bears also waited till two were out before staging their winning rally in the sixth off Bollens.

Stigge, the early goat when his second-inning hunt turned into a double play, lined a double to right for his second straight key hit and scored the go-ahead run on Hickerson's two-bagger to left-center.

The southpaw-swinging Hickerson waited on a changeup and drilled the ball to the off-field. The Bears threatened again in the seventh and eighth, but the late innings belonged to right-handed reliever Kevin Brink.

Mike Heffernon, another Albany lad, worked the first four-plus innings for Cal and was touched for the Bruins' four runs. The telling blow was a two-run double by Dave Baker in the fifth.

That made it 4-0 and left two runners in scoring position with one out. Brink took over and fanned Brian Viselli, but the ball was in the dirt and freshman catcher Colburn couldn't find the handle.

Viselli broke for first and Colburn cocked to make the throw before a shout from the dugout implored him not to make the toss. "I goofed," admitted assistant coach Bob Milano, whose mistake loaded the bases.

Brink, however, rose to the occasion by striking out Craig Johnson and Gary Rasmussen, ending the threat. He retired 10 in a row before Rasmussen singled with two down in the eighth and was thrown out trying to steal.

Brink earned the victory with more stout pitching in the ninth. Larry Silver set off with a single and Mike Cox followed with a well-placed bunt for another hit. Ray Townsend's sacrifice advanced the runners.

The count went to 3-0 on Dennis Delany when the game's complexion suddenly changed. Delany swung on the next pitch and grounded to shortstop Greg Thys, who easily nailed Silver with a throw to the plate.

After Ron Roenick grounded out, ending the game, UCLA coach Gary Adams defended sending Silver home with one away. "I had the tying run on second, so I had to take a chance," Adams said. "On the road, you've got to go for the tie."

Brink, who has allowed but one earned run in his last nine and one-third innings of relief, attributes his newfound success "to altering my delivery drastically two weeks ago. Instead of throwing overhand, I've dropped to three-quarters and my ball is moving better."

Albany Bowl

Second half title is captured by O & R

By PHIL ALSTON

With Ray Felix and Les Riedinger leading the way on matching 598 series, O&R Vending breezed to the second half title in the 915 Major League at Albany Bowl with a 16-9 position round victory over Full House.

Paco Vasquez and Aljoe Manborio offered 647 and 637 respectively in an effort to keep Full House alive, but support was lacking.

The Venders' win set up a championship match between them and Diablo Bowling Supply, winners of the first half.

The Diablos fared poorly in second half competition, but they closed out their 15½ to 9½ triumph over BCL Superstars last week by posting a 1009 game total with the aid of strong performances by Lorenzo Lockhart and Mark Valente. Lockhart's 675 series was built on games of 211-232-232, and Valente included a 259 game in his 626.

Merry Jax downed Nevada Tahoe Tours 18-7 and wound up in a tie for second place with Full House. Glenn Kenela paced Merry Jax with 620 series and John Taylor added 608.

The race in the Majorettes League got a mite sticky as Post Newspapers, behind Kay Murray's 589 series, zoomed into second place on a 20-2 claim against United Insurance.

Meanwhile, league leader-ing Associated Coin

Amusements was suffering a 17 to 5 loss to O&R Vending, but still holds an eight point advantage going into the final night.

Patty Oates led the Majorettes scoring with 611 series on counts of 200-186-225 as Overdues tripped Marge Hall 15-7. Godria Throuwer, 236-600, was next, and Tally Sewell belied her 151 average by pitching 594. Throuwer also had a 562 series to lead the Saturday Swingers.

Kay Schmidt recovered from a miserable 149 start to shoot 204 and 208 for 561 to win the final night sweep in the Ladies 630 Scratch with handicap total of 625.

Elmer Hudson, using his 138 average in the Tri Cities League, won the Beat Your Average tournament, sponsored by the Albany Lions Club, by shooting games of 221-183-156 for 570 series, 156 pins over average. His reward was a 16" television set.

Albany Library to present award

ALBANY — A $25 award will be presented by the Albany Public Library to the patron who signs up the most new cardholders prior to May 1, a Library Board spokesman announced yesterday.

Second place went to Jim Malkson, who had 139 average in the Graphic Arts loop, 151 pins over on a 568 series. Gene Fulton, whose 157 average came from the Friday Invitational, was third, 144 pins over with a 615 series.

Other league leaders included Carl Hendrix, who once again led the Wednesday Scratch Trios with 620, Rocky Rousseau, who topped the Friday Invitational with 223-617, Paul Bennett, who closed with 229 for the Nite Owls' best at 600, Tony Luis, with a best-ever 594 in the Wednesday 660 Scratch, and Felix Norris, 589 for the 184 Club.

Like a good neighbor, State Farm is there.

highrise towers of 54 stories, with apartments and offices located above the ground floor, restaurants and theaters. All these towers are surrounded by a vast amount of open space, landscaped and planned for recreation.

Despite these massive projects, close-in housing remains scarce. The average Tokyo worker, we are told, makes a one to two hour trip daily, commuting from remote suburban villages.

One of the reasons for the scarcity of urban housing, of course, is the cost. A one-bedroom house in Tokyo, on a 50 by 100-foot lot, is built in Tokyo on a 50 by 100-foot lot and prices at around $100,000. These costs are reflected in rentals, usually $400 to $600 per month, and a large apartment or home will rent for $1,000 to $1,500. All of these costs can be traced back to the high cost of land.

And because of land scarcity, we believe the Japanese, with their highly developed technological industries, may well locate their plants in California. The land is relatively inexpensive. Governor Brown in Japan at the time we were there — I believe his mission was to attract auto manufacturers to this country.

Japan has no oil and no natural materials — only a few minerals. So it may be more convenient for them to locate plants outside their nation.

Oddly, with all the energy shortage (gasoline is now $1.50 per gallon) Tokyo has a tremendous traffic problem. The town is congested all day long. And a megapolis that extends 300 miles south to Osaka creates an even bigger traffic jam, despite the heavy use of passenger trains.

We took the 135-mile-hour Bullet Train to Kyoto, and then went on to Osaka, a new town built in a open field. Some 15 miles from its center a planned community has been built that is home to 150,000. Here, too, the majority live in high-rises surrounded by large landscaped areas. Modern train and subway service all of these towns, but despite mass transportation, the streets and highways are filled with cars.

"We flew directly from Tokyo to Hong Kong for a conference with Sir Kenneth Ping Fan Fung, Fung's land company manages the new 54-story Connaught Tower. Sir Kenneth took us on a tour of the townhouse development near Victoria Peak where a three-bedroom-two bath townhouse with approximately 3,000 square feet of floor space sells for $590,000 American dollars. The same townhouse here would be priced at $110,000.

"Hong Kong is more congested than Tokyo, if that's possible. We also made a tour of the Kowloon Peninsula — arriving on the day that the record sale was negotiated. A site on which an office building was to be erected sold for $800 per square foot — the highest price ever paid anywhere for a building site.

"Since World War II Hong Kong has doubled in size — it now has a population of some 4.5 million. Many refugees fleeing from Red China settled there and actually lived in tents for years before being able to rent a home. The city has solved some of its housing problems by building apartments from six to 25 stories high, and there are at least 50 high-rises currently under construction in the 'New Territories' parks, and well-planned homes. There are no traffic problems there. The government levies a tax on anyone driving a car into the downtown area, and requires that at least four people occupy that car.

"Singapore — one of the garden cities of the world, has rebuilt since World War II and now is a metropolis of broad streets, beautiful parks, and well-planned homes. There are no traffic problems there. The government levies a tax on anyone driving a car into the downtown area, and requires that at least four people occupy that car.

"The litter problem has been solved, too. Anyone caught tossing trash on the ground is fined $200. The town is very clean.

ALBANY CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SOCIETY

The subject for the Bible Lesson Sermon at 11 a.m. Sunday is "Everlasting Punishment." This verse from Psalms will be included: "Depart from evil, and do good; and dwell for evermore." Tuesday afternoon, May 3 the Reading Room will be open from 2 to 4 o'clock.

UNITED METHODIST CHURCH

Sunday morning at 11 the Rev. David Houston will deliver the sermon at the United Methodist Church, 960 Stannage Ave., Albany.

Sheila Scott will direct the anthem "Thine is the Glory" arranged by Kent Montgomery. Jim Berling will play the accompaniment.

Nursery care will be provided for small children.

ALBANY CHURCH OF THE NAZARENE

"Pray Before You Ask" will be the sermon topic of Associate Pastor Lupe Torres at the 11 a.m. Sunday service in the Albany Church of the Nazarene.

Pastor Richard Roy will speak at the 7 p.m. service and "special music will be presented. The church is located at 850 Talbot Ave.

ST. ALBAN'S EPISCOPAL CHURCH

The Rev. Warren Debenham, rector, will celebrate Holy Communion this morning at 11:30. The Food Pantry will be open tomorrow, under the direction of Penny James and on Tuesday, with Ann Lamb in charge.

On Sunday, St. Alban's congregation will make a pilgrimage to Grace Cathedral, in San Francisco, to take part in the 11 a.m. service. Members of this congregation will join in the service, acting as readers, acolytes and ushers; among those scheduled to serve are Ann Rolison, lecturer, and Bill Reichle, Victor Tyler and Renea Davies, acolytes.

There will be no church school and no meeting of the adult bible class because of the San Francisco service.

St. Alban's Episcopal Church is at 1501 Washington Ave.

FIRST UNITARIAN CHURCH

First Unitarian Church of Berkeley, One Lawson Road, Kensington, invites interested adults to Friday evenings of folk dancing, beginning at 8 p.m. Friday in the social hall of the church.

The instructor is Lisa Liepman. The requested donation toward expenses is $1.50.

Beginners are welcome, and no partners are needed.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

The Lord's Supper will be observed this Sunday at the 11 a.m. service. The Deacons, under Acting Chairman James Hendrick, will be serving the elements to the congregation. The Chancel Choir will be singing an appropriate anthem. Pastor Larry R. Campbell will bring the message for the day entitled "Soul Music." Nursery Care for small children will be provided.

Sunday School classes meet each week at 9:30 a.m. There are classes for children, youth, college and career, and adults.

Starting this Sunday, the evening worship hour will feature an extended series of teaching messages on the doctrines of the faith. Pastor Campbell will be bringing a new study each week seeking to help believers to know better the content of the Christian faith.

The Mid-Week Hour meets on Wednesdays at 7 p.m. in the Youth Lounge. The current study is the book of First Corinthians written by the Apostle Paul.

IT'S GOING TO BE A LONG, DRY, EXPENSIVE SUMMER.

WHAT HAS THE DROUGHT DONE TO POWER SUPPLIES?

The drought is already having its effect on PG&E's ability to generate electric power this year. Here are the facts.

In a normal year, much of PG&E's electricity is generated by water power. The drought has reduced our hydroelectric generating capacity to less than half of normal. By summer, we expect our reservoirs to be at all-time lows. Any chance of getting enough rain or snow to solve the problem just about disappeared by mid-March.

Last year was also a drought year. But we were able to buy large amounts of hydroelectric power from the Pacific Northwest. This year we can't. Water conditions there are so far below normal that a 10% cutback in power usage has been ordered. So no power at all is available to us from that source this year.

Our Diablo Canyon Nuclear Plant has the capacity to fill the gap. But it is not in operation because it is still in the process of being licensed.

To make up for the missing hydro power this year, we are working our steam-electric generating plants (fueled mostly by oil) overtime. We are also buying power from Southern California and Nevada utilities. The amounts available may or may not be enough to meet all our customers' demands during peak periods in coming months. If there is not enough power to go around, our customers will be asked to cut back their use even more than now. Power shortages that require actual power cutoffs to groups of customers will occur only if voluntary cutbacks fail to work. Or if there is a breakdown of major steam-electric generating equipment. (Such breakdowns, unfortunately, are more apt to happen when generating equipment works overtime, as now.)

WHAT ABOUT THE COSTS TO YOU?

With hydroelectric capacity sharply reduced, it takes more oil to run our steam-electric generating plants. This oil, mostly imported, costs almost $15 a barrel. We will need to burn at least 50 million barrels of it this year — compared to less than 27 million last year. And the more oil we burn, the more electricity will cost.

WHAT CAN YOU DO?

If ever the need to conserve energy were clear, it is now. Saving kilowatt hours not only helps relieve the energy shortage, it also saves you real money. Just call or visit your nearest PG&E office. We will provide you with information on how you can cut down on your use of electricity without disrupting your home or business.

TODAY — Adult school classes at the Center start at 9:30 with "The Age of Napoleon." Creative Retirement, at noon, features Ruth Anderson, from the University of California Art Museum. Her topic is: "A Look at the World of Art." Human Relations is from 1:30 to 3:30. Come to class and grow! Supper tonight is Chicken Croquettes.

THURS. — Bingo leads off the day at 10:30 m. followed by Singing at 11:30. We'll be singing Happy Birthday to the March and April celebrants at noon, so if your natal day falls in one of those two months, come on over and celebrate with us! After the party, we'll gather for cards. On the menu tonight is Chili Macaroni. Make reservations today for Sunday dinner, served on May 1st.

FRI. — 10 a.m. is Art Projects Class with Gloria Trout. Also at 10 a.m., the Community Service Group meets to work on charitable projects. Led by Lucile Burnette, the Community Service Group accomplishes a great deal of work. Noon bag lunch is followed by the Bridge Party at 12:30. Those who made reservations early enough will enjoy Roast Pork tonight for supper.

SAT. — Stitchery Class meets at ten — sign up soon, as class is limited to ten. Noon for Leo Vuosalo's World Affairs Class. Stay on, because at 2, there will be a free concert at the Center. John Fischer, long time member of the Senior Citizens' Club, will play violin and Anna Lossow the piano, in a classical music concert. Do come and enjoy really beautiful music. Dancing will start at 2:30 until 5 p.m. Miriam Heath, dance teacher, will show you those steps, some new, some old — but all fun.

SUN. — April showers brought May flowers to the Center. Our violas, pansies, forget-me-nots and Sweet Williams are a botanist's delight. Come at noon to see your bag lunch and stay for coffee, cards and conversation. Staff women for Saturday and Sunday Jean Kramer will make you feel welcome. Remember, the Center is open seven days a week, and there's always a warm welcome for visitors — so come on down! Sunday dinner, prepared by the Eagle Auxiliary will be served at 4 p.m. Advance reservations required.

MON. — Creative Writing Class meets at 9:30. Come tell your story and learn with a happy group. Watercolor Class convenes at 10 a.m. to be creative with brush and paint. Ogley Party is at 12:30. For those not in the know, Ogley is a fancy name for Bingo — so if you like Bingo, you'll love Ogley! Supper is Meatloaf with gravy.

TUES. 10 a.m. Needlecraft and crafts group meets. Come and bring your current project. After noon bag lunch, stay and exercise at 2 p.m. This class is steadily gaining popularity. If you did the exercise, your appetite will be ready for supper, which is Baked Chicken. WED. — Adult School Classes today are: "Age of Napoleon" at 9:30, Creative Retirement at noon — speaker is Dennis Casquero, whose topic is "Consumer Information & Consumer Complaints." Supper for the evening is Beef Sausage in Bar-B-Q Sauce.

"To be heard, or not to be heard, that is the question." Will he or won't he? Tiny Kampe rubs his beard wondering what the vote will be. 25 cents "buys" a vote to shave it or save it. Votes are available at the Senior Center only, and there is no limit on how many votes you buy. All proceeds go to the Senior Center Building Fund, for much-needed expansion of the Center. Cast your ballots, and help a worthy cause — Vote early and often.

We are still taking reservations for the Gold Country Trip, May 23 & 24. $38 for members, $41 for non-members pays for transportation, lodging and a buffet at Columbia State Park. Tour the Roundhouse at Jamestown, Daffodill Hill and Old Town Sacramento. STOP THE BUBBLE MACHINE! We are still taking reservations for Lawrence Welk. Travel to South Lake Tahoe, see the cocktail show starring Lawrence Welk, stay overnight there, then into Reno the next day. That is June 27 & 28, the cost is $40 for members, $42 for non-members. This trip is going to be wunnerful, wunnerful!

Cancer Society plans unique fund campaign

ALBANY — Albany has been chosen by the American Cancer Society to test a new method of collecting funds to finance the fight against the disease, a Society spokesman revealed today.

Albany residents living between the Santa Fe Railroad tracks and San Pablo Avenue will, between April 29 (Friday) and May 8 have a kit passed from neighbor to neighbor. The envelope will be delivered to the first house on every block and "Hopefully, each resident will make a donation and pass it to the next house. When the envelope has traveled completely around the block, the last resident will call the phone number on the kit and a volunteer will pick up the donations.

"Albany was chosen as the experimental campaign site because it is such a close-knit community", according to Ruth Eaton, city chairman for this year's drive.

The remainder of the city will be handled in the traditional way, with one person taking an envelope door-to-door. Volunteers for this portion of the drive "are urgently needed", according to Orville Auble and Irene Navarro. Auble is chairman of the area south of Solano, and Irene Navarro will direct the drive in the area north of Solano. Those desiring to volunteer their services may call Eaton at 527-5927.

RECEIVES CAP — Gillian (Mrs. William) Munn was among the 59 freshmen enrolled in the Samuel Merritt Hospital School of Nursing who received their caps in ceremonies conducted recently at the First United Presbyterian Church of Oakland.

Take a Herbix break instead... still less than 5¢ a hearty cupful

'Carnival at the Kensington Corral'

KENSINGTON — The 1977 "Carnival at the Kensington Corral" will be hosted by the Kensington PTA and Dads' Club. The event will be held from 10:30 a.m. to 3 p.m., May 7, at the Kensington Elementary School, 90 Highland Blvd., Kensington.

Chairmen, Judy Alley, Gloria McNab, Dick Jorgensen and Bob Barden encourage "all partners to come and support the young wranglers of the community by participating in the carnival activities. It is hoped that many children will sport western clothes, particularly a red bandana."

There will be a "stamped" (parade) to the school grounds beginning at the Youth Hut (off Arlington Avenue) at 10 a.m. To the music of the El Cerrito High School Band the stamped will follow the Kensington fire engine south on Arlington to Westminister and up Westminister and Kenyon to the school.

The school grounds will take on the appearance of the wild frontier, featuring such western fare as an "Old Time Variety Show" with square dancing, singing, and other festivities. A silent auction of works by local artists and craftspeople will be held at the Country Store. Carnival goers may stop by the store to buy canned goods, home-made preserves, white elephants, clothing and hand-crafted items.

Richmond is home for Mr. and Mrs. Jon Norman Heath (Susan Lynn Luoma), who honeymooned at Lake Tahoe after their wedding in El Cerrito Community Center.

The Rev. David Sugarbaker officiated in the nuptials, the couple exchanging gold rings, and vows which they had written. A champagne buffet reception with dancing to live music followed, 250 guests attending.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Luoma of Albany are parents of the bride and Mr.

and Mrs. Hurley Heath of Albany are parents of the bridegroom.

Educated at California State University, Hayward, the couple is employed in this area. Mrs. Heath is a registered nurse, working in Berkeley, and her husband is a photographer in Albany and also is employed in Berkeley.

Susan's Victorian mood gown of off-white satin was styled with lace bodice, long sleeves and bow back interest. She carried long-stemmed red roses and wore three red roses in her hair.

In the romantic tradition, the bride wore her mother's gold ring with rubies and diamonds as "something old," a gold bracelet which was her parents' gift as "something new" and gold earrings borrowed from Mrs. Chris Maters, a bridesmaid. "Something blue" was a necklace of blue stone set in gold, gift of the bridegroom.

Gayle Wightman of Albany was honor attendant. Bridesmaids were Patty Luoma, the bride's sister; Mrs. Maters of Oakland; Mrs. Gary Quinn of Richmond and Marjorie Allen of Hayward. Flower girl was Cindy Rodden of Pinole, a cousin, and ring bearer was Scott Luoma, nephew of the bride.

The attendants wore off-white Victorian blouses with lace inserts and floor length print skirts. They carried long-stemmed yellow roses, had yellow roses in their hair, and wore gold bracelets, gifts of the bride. Best man was Patrick O'Donnell of Livermore. Other attendants were Gary Quinn of Richmond; Scott Houser of El Cerrito, who gave readings; Russell Carlson of El Cerrito and Peter Calimeris, Oakland. Robert Nishiyama played guitar and sang.

Caren Valentine Faegley made the wedding cake; Diane Onweller attended the guest book and Mrs. Hurley Heath decorated reception tables. Bundy Andreani made the floral arch the couple stood under. Patt Dempster and Martin Valli assisted with food.

Jon's brother, Glen Heath, came from Connecticut; an aunt and uncle, the Edgar Fords, from Jamestown, and the bride's aunts and cousins, Mrs. Marjorie Guerbadot of Arizona; Mrs. Lewis Gray, Tujunga; Mrs. Pat Ashley, Sharon and Leigh Ann, from San Jose.

IT'S A GRAND OLD TRADITION — Catherine Webb, chairman of the steering committee mapping plans for Albany's Town Meeting on March 14, explains the significance of a basic democratic process to some very young citizens. The bell displayed by Ms. Webb, of a type used by Colonial America's town criers who announced the public sessions, actually is a hundred-year-old school bell. Albany's May session will include a meeting for children at the Middle School. The children's activities are being coordinated by Ellen Benson and Joy Dutton who said the junior convolve will include a free lunch and a snack to be served during the 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. meeting.

Berkeley clinics battling spread of childhood diseases

BERKELEY — The City of Berkeley is planning a series of immunization clinics as part of the State-wide effort to halt the spread of childhood communicable diseases.

"This campaign is part of a national approach to arouse public concern about the intolerably low levels of childhood immunization against such easily preventable diseases as polio, measles, pertussis (whooping cough) and tetanus," Rowena Wilson, R.N., coordinator of the immunization assistance program, said today.

"For most children, these common childhood diseases are relatively minor health problems. But every one of them can cause death," Mrs. Wilson said. Most can produce life long physical or mental impairment — paralysis, blindness, deafness, brain damage, and mental retardation. A recent survey of Berkeley Kindergarten children revealed only 42% had four doses of polio and only 50% were immunized against DPT.

"An alarming number of teenagers throughout the State are contracting measles. Last week, in an effort to halt this measles epidemic in Los Angeles, a school exclusion policy was implemented. Let's not let this happen in Berkeley!"

Three area clinics will be held in May — anyone may attend. Parental Consent forms can be signed at the clinic site.

May 5 — 10 to 12:00 — Jefferson Elementary School, 1400 Ada Street, Berkeley.

May 5 — 1 to 3:00 — Berkeley High School, 2246 Milvia Street, Berkeley.

May 6 — 10 to 12:00 — Whittier Elementary School, 1645 Milvia Street, Berkeley.

Open house at nursery school set

ALBANY — The Albany Parent Nursery School, 1058 Monroe St. in University Village will hold open house Friday from 9:30 to 10:30 a.m. and at 1 to 2 p.m. The public is "cordially invited to observe the children in their various activities."

The cooperative nursery school, now in its 12th year is sponsored by the Albany Unified School District as part of the Adult Education program. Directors for the school are: Ruth Friedman (mornings) and Greta Olsen (afternoons).

University 'Y' marking anniversary

BERKELEY — The current exhibit of Duane Hanson's ultrarealist sculptures at the University Art Museum will provide a setting for "A Slice of Life," the University YWCA's celebration of National YWCA Week and 87 years on the University of California's campus.

The party will be on Thursday, at the museum (2626 Bancroft Way), from 6:30 to 9:00 p.m. The affair will feature cocktails and light buffet by Narsai's, music by the U.C. Jazz Ensemble, and a wine auction beginning at 8 p.m. with Chester McCorkle, Vice-President of the University, as the auctioneer.

"Everyone is invited to attend this special event but space is limited. Tickets are $15 each and reservations may be made by calling Y-House at 848-6370 between 9 a.m. and 5 p.m. Monday through Friday," a "Y" spokesman said.

Physician cited by board

ALBANY — Dr. Victor Stallone, an Albany physician has been cited by the Board of Medical Quality Assurance for unprofessional conduct and for violation of State statute regulation of dangerous drugs.

Stallone was charged by the board with distributing Demerol, a depressant, to people without a prescription and for taking the drug himself. His medical license was revoked but was later reinstated. He is on a 10-year probation.

Stallone must comply with the terms of his probation. He cannot write some prescriptions and he must not use drugs. Stallone must undergo psychiatric treatment and report to the board.

The 'Any Reason' Loan

$5,000 and up for homeowners

Money to go for practically anything. Now you can borrow on your home and use the money for practically anything—such as travel, a vacation home, education, consolidating old debts, new furniture, installing a swimming pool, or paying medical expenses.

Use the equity that's in your home. You may be surprised at the amount you can borrow on your home: take the market value of your home—what it would sell for today, and multiply that by 80%. From this figure, subtract the balance of all loans against your home. The remainder, if greater than $5,000, is the amount you can probably borrow with an "Any Reason" Loan.

11.50% Annual Percentage Rate (APR). The Mechanics Bank "Any Reason" Loan A.P.R. is 11.50%. The Annual Percentage Rate as stated here is quoted before any loan fees, where applicable. The table below lists some of your borrowing and repayment options.

AMOUNT BORROWED	MONTHLY PAYMENT	TERM	FINANCE CHARGE	TOTAL REPAYMENT	ANNUAL PERCENTAGE RATE
5,000	109.95	5 Yrs.	1597.00	6597.00	11.50
5,000	86.89	7 Yrs.	2298.76	7298.76	11.50

11.00% Annual Percentage Rate with a Mechanics Bank checking account. The Mechanics Bank makes loan repayment extremely easy: you just open a Mechanics Bank checking account and authorize us to deduct your monthly payments automatically. That allows us to lower your annual percentage rate to 11.00%. And that's less paperwork for you.

Closer-To-Home service. An "Any Reason" Loan is an easy loan to arrange. Just talk with the lending officer at any of our local offices. Each of our office managers can process your loan request quickly, so decisions take very little time.
